The NLIS Database stores Property Identification Code (PIC) Register information. Disclosure of this information is governed by the NLIS Database Terms of Use.

The ‘Search the PIC register’ report enables you to enter text in fields and search for any records matching your criteria. For example, you may know the PIC number of a property, but not the name of the owner or business associated with that property.

If you are permitted to view the details for that property, the report will display the contact details for a PIC, or the PIC associated with a trading name or location.
